Total	100%

A grade of C- is required for progression or transfer.

Response Papers

Students are required to complete a series of 4 short assignments responding to prompts that will be provided in class the week preceding the paper's due date. These papers should respond to the reading in a meaningful way while conforming to the guidelines provided. Students must complete 4 of these assignments, however, to allow for the possibility of reasonable absence, there will be 5 opportunities to complete a response paper. Late response papers will only be accepted in extraordinary circumstances. Marked out of 5; handed in at the beginning of the first class of the week due.

Writing as Praxis

For this assignment students will write three poems, or one short story. This creative work should demonstrate a critical and formal understanding of creative writing as reflected in our course material. Your work should clearly be influenced by at least one text from the class - please indicate which text you are using as a model as a subheading for your work. For your creative critique, you are expected to engage with a particular event or issue in order to express your feelings and thoughts on the issue. Consider how Dorothy Livesay describes the documentary poem when using the poems to address the event/issue: it "create[s] a dialectic between the objective facts and the subjective feeling of the poet. The effect is often ironic; it is always intensely personal." Finally, each student will include a brief (2 page) note where they outline what choices they made in their writing, how their work address both their model text and their event/issue, and what the student's take away from the experience is. Pay particular attention to poetics and form when composing your author's note.

Essay Peer Review

Drafting is an essential skill in the writing process as it allows the continuous improvement and polish of a given piece. In order to assist students in developing their ability to edit, and to instill the practice of drafting, students will be required to complete drafts of their research papers and exchange them with a colleague. Students will then read each other's papers and provide meaningful feedback using the provided form (available on Moodle). Completed forms and any additional constructive feedback are then to be returned to the paper's author. An additional copy of the completed form will be submitted to the instructor in class to serve as evidence that you have completed the assignment.

Participation

You will be expected to participate in the life of the course and the critical discourse that develops around it. Being as this course is being delivered via distance learning, participation will take a variety of forms. These forms will include engagement with lectures—either while they are delivered live or through comments and questions after the fact in the Teams thread for each week, engaging with study questions posted for each week on Teams, and any other forms of engagement that may present themselves over the course of the term. The key to successful participation is thoughtful and meaningful engagement with the material from the lectures and the reading. Questions are as good as answers, and engaging other students is as good as or better than focusing on the instructor.

Research Project

You will be expected to write a detailed, well researched, thesis driven essay on a text or texts from the course. This essay should demonstrate your mastery of the text(s), your ability to effectively integrate your research into your writing, a familiarity with the current critical discourses surrounding your topic, and your ability to write at the university level. Final Essay 6-8 pages.

Late Policy

Late work will only be accepted until 3pm on the second day following the due date and it will be penalized at a rate of 10%/Day. If work is not submitted by 3pm on the second day following the due date, it will not be accepted and the student will receive a 0(zero) on the assignment. It should also be noted that late material will receive no feedback from the instructor. It is your responsibility to meet the due dates for the assigned material.

Standards for Written Assignments

Learning how to follow house style sheets is one of the most important skills a writer can develop. To aid you in your quest to learn these skills I have provided a document entitled “Standards for Written Assignments” on Moodle. If your paper does not conform to these standards, expect to lose marks.

All work must be TYPED, double spaced, and have proper MLA documentation (unless instructed otherwise). Do NOT submit work to me by e-mail. All work must be submitted through the appropriate dropbox on moodle by the due date. For major assignments, you will be expected to also submit a paper copy to the instructor at the beginning of class on the due date. Please also understand that digital submission of the work will be treated as acknowledgement that the work is free from plagiarism and other forms of academic misconduct and that the work being submitted is in full compliance with Keyano College’s Academic Policy and Procedure.

Sensitivity, Respect, and Subject Matter

Some of the material we will be covering this semester is of a charged nature—whether in terms of form, content or politics. As critics, we cannot shy away from this material; however, we must understand that this material may generate a wide variety of reactions and opinions among our colleagues in the classroom. Thus, it is imperative that we remain aware of, and sympathetic to the reactions and opinions of our classmates. Respect and sensitivity will produce a stronger learning environment and generate better, more nuanced discussions.

Content warnings, where appropriate, will be provided on moodle in advance of class discussions.

Pronoun Usage

Every student deserves the basic respect of being referred to by the appropriate pronouns. To that end, if there are particular pronouns that you wish to use please feel free to let me know either in person or via email. If I misgender you, please feel free to correct me and I will work to avoid doing so in the future. The pronouns that I use are he/his.

Performance Requirements

Student Responsibilities

It is your responsibility as a student to contact the Office of the Registrar to complete the forms for Withdrawal or Change of Registration, and any other forms. Please refer to the list of important dates as noted in the Academic Schedule in the Keyano College credit calendar. The Keyano College credit calendar also has information about Student Rights and Code of Conduct. It is the responsibility of each student to be aware of the guidelines outlined in the Student Rights and Code of Conduct Policies.

Student Attendance

Class attendance is useful for two reasons. First, class attendance maximizes a student's learning experience. Second, attending class is a good way to keep informed of matters relating to the administration of the course (e.g., the timing of assignments and exams). Ultimately, you are responsible for your own learning and performance in this course.

It is the responsibility of each student to be prepared for all classes. Students who miss classes are responsible for the material covered in those classes and for ensuring that they are prepared for the next class, including the completion of any assignments and notes that may be due.

Academic Misconduct

Students are considered to be responsible adults and should adhere to principles of intellectual integrity. Intellectual dishonesty may take many forms, such as:

- Plagiarism or the submission of another person's work as one's own;
- The use of unauthorized aids in assignments or examinations (cheating);
- Collusion or the unauthorized collaboration with others in preparing work;
- The deliberate misrepresentation of qualifications;
- The willful distortion of results or data;
- Substitution in an examination by another person;
- Handing in the same unchanged work as submitted for another assignment; and
- Breach of confidentiality.

The consequences for academic misconduct range from a verbal reprimand to expulsion from the College. More specific descriptions and details are found in the Student Rights and Code of Conduct section of the Keyano College credit calendar. It is the responsibility of each student to be aware of the guidelines outlined in the Student Rights and Code of Conduct Policies.

In order to ensure your understanding of the concept of plagiarism, you must successfully complete the online tutorial found on ilearn.keyano.ca. Then print the certificate, sign it, and show it to each of your instructors. Your course work may not be graded until you show this signed certificate.
