A grade of C- is required for progression.
The minimum standard for passing this course is a grade of D (50%).

In-Class Assignments & Participation – 20%

Each week, we will be working on different exercises, cases and applications of Strategic Compensation and Benefits in order to give you an opportunity to practice what you’ve learned. Exercises and/or cases will be assigned either individually and in groups depending on the topic. The specific learning outcomes and expectations will be presented each class and cannot be done ahead of time. That said if you are not in class, you would not be eligible to receive marks for that nights assignment. The purpose is to reward those students who participate not to punish those that do not.

Group Research Presentation – 20%

In groups of up to four, you are expected to research, analyze, prepare, and present to the class your findings of a Canadian, for-profit, non-union organization that uses a strategic compensation system or a current issue in Compensation today. Each presentation will be 15 minutes (not including Q&A). The Organization / issue must be approved prior to beginning your research. The specific learning outcomes, expectations, and rubric will be provided to you later in the term.

Group Assignment – Semester long – 30%

Here is an opportunity to apply your learning. You will be expected to, in your groups, read and analyze a case to develop effective recommendations. Format and specific content expectations will be provided to you in the first few weeks of class.

Final Exam – 30%

Final Exam will be open book. The format of this will be developed over the course period and will be shared with the students so that you will have ample time to prepare.

More specific details are found in the Student Rights and Student Code of Conduct section of the Keyano College credit calendar. It is the responsibility of each student to be aware of the guidelines outlined in the Student Rights and Student Code of Conduct Policies.
Student Attendance

Class attendance is useful for two reasons. First, class attendance maximizes a student’s learning experience. Second, attending class is a good way to keep informed of matters relating to the administration of the course (e.g., the timing of assignments and exams). Ultimately, you are responsible for your own learning and performance in this course.

It is the responsibility of each student to be prepared for all classes. Students who miss classes are responsible for the material covered in those classes and for ensuring that they are prepared for the next class, including the completion of any assignments and / or notes that may be due.

Academic Misconduct

Students are considered to be responsible adults and should adhere to principles of intellectual integrity. Intellectual dishonesty may take many forms, such as:

- Plagiarism or the submission of another person’s work as one’s own
- The use of unauthorized aids in assignments or examinations (cheating)
- Collusion or the unauthorized collaboration with others in preparing work
- The deliberate misrepresentation of qualifications
- The willful distortion of results or data
- Substitution in an examination by another person
- Handing in the same unchanged work as submitted for another assignment
- Breach of confidentiality.

The consequences for academic misconduct range from a verbal reprimand to expulsion from the College. More specific descriptions and details are found in the Student Rights and Student Code of Conduct section of the Keyano College 2015-2016 credit calendar. It is the responsibility of each student to be aware of the guidelines outlined in the Student Rights and Student Code of Conduct Policies.

In order to ensure your understanding of the concept of plagiarism, you must successfully complete the online tutorial found on ilearn.keyano.ca. Then print the certificate, sign it, and show it to each of your instructors. Your course work will not be graded until you show this signed certificate.
