Thursdays Noon – 1:00 p.m.

Hours of Instruction:

12 weeks (1 orientation, 10 weeks in course, 1 week follow-up)

January 16 – April 17, 2013

***Keyano's Reading Week is February 23-March 3 inclusive, so there will be a break in our online discussions during that week***

Course Description: 2 Credits, 30 hours, 12 weeks

The emphasis in this course will be on the growth of each individual in relation to others. Students will set goals for personal growth by identifying personal values, needs, roles, biases, strengths and weaknesses. They will demonstrate self-awareness and increased effectiveness in relationships by practicing appropriate self-disclosure, giving and receiving feedback, and expressive and receptive communication skills. Students will identify and assess whether their personal qualities match with the professional qualities necessary for the childhood development profession.

No Prerequisites and/or co-requisites

Required Resources:

Covey, S. (1998). The seven habits of highly effective teens. New York, NY:

Fireside Books.

Rosenberg, M. (2003). Non-violent communication: A language of life. (2nd Edition). Encinitas, CA: PuddleDancer Press.

Course Outcomes:

Students will:

1. Increase self-awareness and recognize personal accountability for feelings, needs and actions.
2. Identify and explain the influences that values, beliefs, perceptions and biases have on verbal and non-verbal communication
3. Examine and give examples of improved communication skills - both receptive (active, reflective and empathic listening) and expressive (affirmations, clear expectations and I-messages)
4. Practice giving and receiving feedback to achieve more authentic personal and professional relationships, using the Nonviolent Communication model
5. Demonstrate growth of communication abilities in interactions with adults
6. Explore the fit between effective communication and the attitude of caring in the childhood development profession

The class will proceed throughout the semester according to the needs, skills and interests of the group. Each group of people presents a unique blend of personalities and abilities. Accordingly, the course content will reflect the needs and nature of the group and the individuals within the group.

Performance Requirements:

Course assignments have set due dates to manage both instructor and student workloads. Changes to due dates may occur to adjust overall student workload based on class consensus.

The department policy (revised 2005) regarding student evaluation states that:

- Assignments are to be submitted at the beginning of the class on their respective due dates. If a student is absent from class, the assignment will be considered late.
- Individual extensions require students to contact and ask permission from the instructor prior to the assignment due date. In addition, a signed request for extension, including the extenuating circumstances, must be submitted at that time or as soon as possible.
- For assignments that are late without written permission:
  - a grade will be deducted for assignments up to 3 days late, e.g. a B assignment will become a B-.
  - an additional grade will be deducted for assignments that are 4 - 7 days late, e.g. a B assignment now becomes a C+.
  - no assignments will be accepted after 1 week past the due date.
  - no assignments will be accepted after the beginning of class on the final due date of the course. The final due date for eCA EA 105 is April 10, 2013

- A grade of B on an assignment recognizes that the student has met the basic requirements and knows the applicable content thoroughly enough to be able to apply it. A grade of less than B brings attention to the student that there are gaps in understanding the content and skills required for that assignment. Students should use the criteria for assignments to guide assignment work.
- A grade of B+ or higher acknowledges excellence in quality and quantity of work. The student's assignment is above the basic requirements.

Plagiarism and Cheating

Every student expects to be treated and evaluated fairly in a course. Plagiarism and cheating robs everyone of this right.

No student may submit words, ideas or data of another student or person as his or her own in any writing, project, assignment, quiz, electronic presentation, exam etc. Any work used that is not the student's own must be clearly cited as belonging to someone else. There are penalties for using other's work and not citing it. The Student's Rights & Responsibilities document clearly outlines these penalties and the appeal process.

- No learner can obtain information from another student during an exam.
- No learner can bring unauthorized information (paper or electronic) into an exam or quiz.
- No student can submit work done in another course for grading in this course without the written prior approval of the course instructor.
- No student can submit copyright protected or commercially produced materials as part or all of an assignment without proper citation & permission.
